

fire alarm at that time.

Q But do you remember driving the bus during 1922 for Mr. Bloom? A. Yes.

Q And setting your time according to the railroad clock?

A Railroad station, yes.

Q Did you have any conversation with Mr. Stevens during that night of September 14? A. No more than just I said how do you do and came down fishing, see.

Q Do you remember saying that to him? A. Yes.

Q The only other persons that you recall having seen on the beach were Mr. Eger and Mr. Applegate? A. Yes, and Mr. Applegate.. Now, there were others, of course. I don't want to swear who they were because, you understand, you go out and sometimes there is fifty or sixty people.

Q What was the distance between you and Mr. Stevens and between Mr. Stevens and Mr. Eger, if you recall? A. Well, I should say, when I was fishing with Stevens I was probably-- I would not want to say--but probably twenty feet, not much more than that, because we hardly ever fish closer than that, or sometimes ten feet. Now, I would not want to say just the exact feet because that would be impossible for me to say that, but I should judge it was within probably twenty feet when I left. When I left and pulled my line in I was probably twenty feet.
